

SGS NEWS

Society of Gynecologic Surgeons

Upcoming Events

SGS Annual Postgraduate Course

The SGS Annual Postgraduate Course in Advanced Gynecologic Surgery will be held in La Jolla, CA on December 4-7. This year's course includes didactic lectures by many leaders in the field of gynecologic surgery. You will certainly not want to miss these key opinion leaders speaking about lessons they have learned throughout their careers. There will be an optional hands-on laparoscopic suturing +energy workshop and two optional cadaver lab sessions at the UCSD Center for the Future of Surgery. Learn from the mentors at this special SGS event. Click HERE for more information.

46th Annual Scientific Meeting

The SGS 46th Annual Scientific Meeting will be held on March 29-April 1, 2020 in Jacksonville, FL. Peter Rosenblatt, MD, SGS President, and the 2020 Scientific Program Committee, led this year by Patrick Culligan, MD, are working hard to provide you with excellent presentations that will be sure to teach and inspire all attendees. The theme of the meeting is 2020 Vision. More details of the meeting content and social activities will be available online towards the end of October. You do not want to miss it!

SGS | AUB Vienna 2019

The SGS | AUB Course in Advanced Gynecologic Surgery will be held on October 10-11, 2019 in Kursalon, Johannesgasse 33, 1010 Vienna, Austria. For the first time, the highly successful Advanced Gynecologic Surgery Course developed by the Society of Gynecologic Surgeons in the United States is being put on in Europe. The course offers two full days of interactive sessions with prominent international faculty. The focus is on advanced gynecologic surgery for benign conditions. There will be detailed presentations on pelvic anatomy (by John DeLancey), benign hysterectomies, endometriosis and pelvic pain, complications, and obstetric emergencies.

The faculty consists of outstanding gynecologic surgeons from the U.S. and Europe.

The program will offer adequate time for interaction with the faculty in the sessions and in the breaks and the evening. Vienna, a city with a rich history in Obstetrics and Gynecology (think Semmelweis, Schauta Wertheim, Halban, Tandler), is conveniently reached from all points in Europe and the Middle East. The hotels are in walking distance of the venue, which is in the center of town.

SGS NEWS

Society of Gynecologic Surgeons

Educational Programs Brought to You and Supported by SHARE

- Professional Development Fund supports the annual Women's Council presentation
- Donald G. Gallup Fund supports the Distinguished Surgeon Award
- Education Fund supports the SGS Fellow Scholars
- Michael P. Aronson Fund supports scholarships for young faculty to attend the SGS Winter Postgraduate Course in Advanced Gynecologic Surgery
- John O. L. DeLancey Fund supports the Pelvic Anatomy Group (nomenclature, 3D imaging and digital library)
- Research Fund and Honor your Mentor Program support the FPRN® and SRG
- David H. Nichols Fund supports an award for the best abstract or video presentation at the SGS Annual Scientific Meeting

Thank you for your continuing support of the SGS Mission by Donating to SHARE

Donate Now

Rising Star Award

The "Rising Star" Award was created to recognize an associate member who is within three years post-fellowship. This award is to recognize commitment to the SGS organization regardless of his/her training background. SGS Associate Members serve an important role for the future of SGS. Nominations will open in early November, so keep an eye out for the announcement!

The award will be announced at the SGS Annual Scientific Meeting Awards Ceremony on Monday, March 30, 2020 in Jacksonville, Florida.

SGS Online Video Library

The SGS Online Video Library is a resource available to SGS Members to look up presentations given at previous annual meetings.

A complimentary one-year subscription is available to all physicians who have attended SGS educational activities. Coming soon, we will offer a complimentary subscription for residency directors.